Student Spotlight

The Return of March Mathness!

For the past few years we have shared fun math problems inspired by the game of basketball and the NCAA tournament. Below is a new math problem from the March Mathness series. Check out the Ascend Math Blog for more.

If there are 64 teams in the tournament and half are eliminated each round, how many rounds does it take to determine a champion?

Gold Medal Award Nominees

Congratulations to the following Gold Medal Nominees. It's not too late to submit your classroom, school, or district before the April 20th deadline. Submit Your Nomination

Product Update

Great News! We've made two new updates to improve your dashboards. The brand-new Teacher and School Summary Dashboards will be available next week. They both will include summaries of Last Weeks Activity, Level Growth and Level Completion.

Tip of the Month

Now is an excellent time to book fall training sessions for teachers new to Ascend Math. Please contact your local Ascend Math representative or support@ascendmath.com to review training options and ensure your ideal date for Professional Development.

Partner School of the Month

Congratulations to the students and teachers of Woodrow Wilson Junior High School in Dayton, Texas. Students at Woodrow Wilson have completed a total of 6,000 objectives this year! That's an average of more than 21 objectives each. 124 students have already gained at least 1/2 of a grade level in math, with 9 gaining two levels.

Free Live Training Webinars

Don't miss out on this month's free live training webinars! These webinars are designed to help school admins and teachers get the most out of their Ascend Math Implementation. Visit the Customer Center Page for upcoming live webinar topics and pre-recorded on-demand webinars.
